The world's first 4TH GENERATION NATURAL PACK

The natural pack developed with new high-tech polymer technology is a water-soluble essence made by condensing and gelling natural essence components.

When applied to the skin, the natural nutrients are absorbed into the skin and becomes thinner over time.

What can prove such is that when the pack is placed in water above 80°C and stirred, the pack will melt with the water.

Issues of moisture, nutrition, cooling and elasticity are solved at once, making the skin moist, soft and elastic in a short time.
